THE GRAND JURY CHARGES THAT:

1. Beginning in and around 2007 and continuing through in and around March 2012, within the Eastern District of Virginia and elsewhere, the defendant, JUSTIN DEONTA STROM, also known as "Jae," "Jae Dee," and "J-Dirt," did unlawfully, knowingly, and intentionally combine, conspire, confederate, and agree together with Christopher Sylvia, Michael Tavon Jefferies, also known as "Loc," and other persons known and unknown to the grand jury (known collectively as "members of the conspiracy") to commit the following offense: To knowingly, in and affecting interstate commerce, recruit, entice, harbor, transport, provide, obtain, and maintain by any means a person, knowing, and in reckless disregard of the fact, that the person had not attained the age of 18 years, and would be caused to engage in a commercial sex act, all in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 1591.

WAYS, MANNER, AND MEANS TO ACCOMPLISH THE CONSPIRACY

2. The primary purpose of the conspiracy was to make money through the prostitution of females, including juveniles. The ways, manner, and means by which this purpose was carried out included the following:

3. The members of the conspiracy included, among others, members and associates of the Underground Gangster Crips street gang. It was part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy advised the juvenile female prostitutes of their membership in, and association with, the gang, in order to, among other reasons, intimidate and coerce the juvenile female prostitutes to participate in or continue participating in commercial sex acts.

4. It was part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy would appoint one female who was responsible for recruiting, instructing, and maintaining contact with the juvenile female prostitutes.

5. It was part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy recruited, both through in-person contact and the internet, juvenile females to work as prostitutes. The internet is an avenue of interstate commerce.

6. It was part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy required or caused the juvenile females to engage in sexual acts with members of the conspiracy before engaging in commercial sex acts with customers. Members of the conspiracy referred to these sex acts as a "demo" or "tryout," which also served, among other reasons, as a method to groom the juvenile female prostitutes.

7. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy arranged for customers to have sexual intercourse with the juvenile female prostitutes for money. Members of the conspiracy recruited customers through in-person contact and by placing advertisements on the internet.

8. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy arranged for juvenile female prostitutes to have sex with clients for money in the basement of a townhouse located in Lorton, Virginia, or in vehicles, both of which were located within the Eastern District of Virginia, which members of the conspiracy referred to as "in calls."

9. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy transported the juvenile female prostitutes and other members of the conspiracy to locations throughout the Eastern District of Virginia to engage in commercial sex acts.

10. It was further part of the conspiracy that once members of the conspiracy and the juvenile female prostitutes arrived at a location to engage in commercial sex acts, members of the conspiracy walked with the juvenile female prostitutes, soliciting customers and ensuring the safety of the juvenile female prostitutes.

11. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy provided the juvenile females with condoms, which traveled in interstate or foreign commerce, to facilitate the prostitution scheme. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy provided the juvenile female prostitutes with narcotics and alcohol, which traveled in interstate commerce, in order to keep the juvenile female prostitutes sedated and compliant, and as a reward or payment for engaging in commercial sex acts.

12. It was further part of the conspiracy that members of the conspiracy shared a portion of the proceeds received from customers as payment for commercial sex acts engaged in by the juvenile female prostitutes.
